

Our Mobile Reach

SingTel and Optus, together with our regional mobile associates, serve over half a billion mobile customers in 25 countries across Asia and Africa. With a mobile data penetration rate of less than 30%, the associates' markets have tremendous potential for growth.

With our experience in the developed markets in Singapore and Australia, we are helping our associates capture these opportunities as they transition from a voice-centric to a mobile- and data-centric world.

Together, we serve over

500 million

mobile customers across 3 continents
